iLevel Solutions Establishes Strategic Distribution Partnership with West Monroe Partners Partnership Leverages iLevel's Innovative Technology Platform and West Monroe's Private Equity Experience

New York, NY (September 10, 2009) – iLevel Solutions, a leading provider of portfolio performance analysis and reporting solutions, today announced it has signed a strategic distribution agreement with West Monroe Partners, a full-service business and technology consulting firm. This partnership enables West Monroe to market, distribute, and provide client-customized implementation services for iLevel's Portfolio Company Reporting System (PCRS) solution.

iLevel provides an innovative suite of commercial software products targeted at the Alternative Investment Management market. iLevel's flagship product, The Portfolio Company Reporting System (PCRS), is a completely integrated solution enabling Private Equity firms to gauge the financial health of the companies in their portfolios. With PCRS, the focus of analysts and deal teams shifts from data collection to reporting, analysis, risk mitigation and investigating new opportunities. Through the use of PCRS, investment professionals gain access to critical fund and portfolio data along with key financial and operating metrics with ease and speed. Information is available through flexible, Excel-based dashboard views, configurable graphical reports with drill-down capabilities, and user-defined analyses for instant insight into critical metrics.

"West Monroe Partners specializes in innovative business and technology solutions for private equity firms and their portfolio companies. iLevel's PCRS platform will expand and deepen our unique offerings to this market, stated John Stiffler, Director, in West Monroe Partner's Private Equity & Alternative Investments practice. "For many private equity firms, the current economic climate has increased attention on operational improvements within their respective portfolio companies. We believe that PCRS will enable us to provide our private equity clients with a comprehensive solution that will facilitate superior reporting, analysis and decision-making."

"We are extremely happy to have West Monroe Partners – a company with unique expertise in the private equity market – as a strategic partner," stated Hank Boggio, Chief Marketing Officer of iLevel Solutions. "We are pleased to have the opportunity to combine our innovative technology platform with their private equity experience. We look forward to working with West Monroe as they help their clients capitalize on the benefits of our PCRS solution."
